AMERICAN NEWS.

Six Years for Blackmail—Stabbed His Comrade But Acquitted.

Indictments of the New York Surface Railroad Bribers Dismissed.

Pasadena, Cal., Feb. 1.—The handsome residence of Judge Nelson was burned to the ground last evening. The furniture was saved. The building was worth $20,000; insurance $14,000. Cause, defective flue.

WANT THEIR LIBERTY.

New York, Feb. 1.—Counsel for Thos. B. Kerr and James A Richmond, indicted for bribery in connection with the Broadway surface railroad franchise, appeared before Recorder Smyth to-day and moved for a dismissal of the indictment. District Attorney Fellows did not oppose the motion and the Recorder took the papers.

BLAINE'S DAUGHTER ILL.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Mrs. Coppinger, wife of Lieut.-Col. Coppinger, and eldest daughter of Secretary Blaine, is critically ill of inflammation of the brain at her father's residence in this city. Mrs. Coppinger was taken sick some time yesterday and grew rapidly worse. This morning her condition was regarded as serious and a consultation of physicians pronounced her critically ill. President Harrison called personally at 11 o'clock to extend his sympathy. Lieut.-Col. Coppinger is now on a tour of inspection in the west, but has been summoned by telegraph.

COMMUTED.

Albany, Feb. 1.—Gov. Hill has commuted the sentence of Jockey Jas. Stone, convicted of murder in the first degree, to imprisonment for life. The commutation was granted upon recommendation of Judge Moore who presided at the trial.

CRIMINAL RECORD.

Pine City, Minn., Feb. 1—Wm. Brookan, who killed Wm. Coombs and his wife, has been convicted of murder in the first degree and has received the death sentence.

Butte, Feb. 1—Thomas King, who shot Matt Fogarty dead during a quarrel at a dance on Thanksgiving night, was found guilty of murder in the first degree to-day.

GOT HIS DUE.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 1.—Art[illegible]ther Blake, who forged the name of A[illegible] Gorham, the millionaire of this city, to $500 at Los Angeles, but who escaped prosecution, and who secured credit from many people in San Francisco on the strength of a story that Gorham had settled a great fortune upon him, pleaded guilty to having attempted blackmail on the millionaire yesterday and has been sentenced to six years in the penitentiary.

THE BLOCKADE.

Dangers From Washouts and Frost on the Railroads.

Sacramento, Feb. 1.—The entire force of men in the mountains, about 750 men, is at work clearing up and putting the track in first class condition. All trains are being run irregularly at present and will be for 24 hours. The weather is warm and cloudy, but should it freeze to-night the road would be closed to-morrow on account of ice forming on the track. This is liable to occur any night so long as the banks of snow remain to furnish water to freeze.

ON THE O. & C. RAILWAY.

Ashland, Or., Feb. 1—The weather between Dunsmuir and Roseburg has generally been quiet and calm for the past 20 hours, but seems to have more rain or snow. The frost of last night in the higher lands to a great extent stopped the rush of water which yesterday appeared impending. Rumors reach us from the north of considerable track being submerged; also reports of slides both north and south.

Buy a lot in Des Moines for $35; only $10 cash and the balance at $4 per month.

ACROSS THE LINE.

A Place in Canada Where "Swag" is Expeditiously Brought.

Wilmington, Del. Feb. 1.—Ex-United States district attorney John C. Patterson has received through a Philadelphia detective all the securities, amounting to $118,000, that were stolen from the Bank of Delaware on Dec. 7th. He had to pay $3500 for their return. The plunder was hidden in an obscure Canadian town where it had been taken after the robbery and details of the discovery will probably always remain a mystery except to the negotiating parties and their agents. The thieves received their own terms, and the meetings were held in Boston, New York and Philadelphia and large correspondence passed between Philadelphia and Canada. It has been proved that there existed throughout a wonderful system for the quick transfer of "swag" to safe harbors in Canada.

The Tacoma and Seattle Electric Railroad will run through Des Moines.

SHORT TELEGRAMS.

General News of the Dominion—Mercier's Gerrymander.

The general election for the local assembly took place Thursday throughout Prince Edward Island. In Charlottetown McLeod and Blake, government candidates, were elected. The government is sustained.

Robert Armour, registrar of Durham West, Ont., and brother of Chief Justice Armour, is dead, aged 72. In the rebellion of '37 he was of the party which cut away the steamer Caroline from the American side of the Niagara river.

Mercier's gerrymander bill creates some surprise. It gives three additional seats to Montreal, one to Quebec and five to other points.

La grippe has not let go its hold on St. John and the other New Brunswick towns. Half of the clergymen of the city are down with the disease or convalescent. The mayor and his clerk have been laid up, and professional business circles are decimated.

Senator John Macdonald, Toronto, is thought to be dying. The doctor have li tle hopes of his recovery.

The New Brunswick government has offered a portfolio in the ministry to L. J. Tweedie, member for Northumberland, and also undertakes to reduce the stumpage on crown lands as the price of the support of the four Northumberland representatives elected in the opposition.

The civil action for $5,000 of Miss Emma Taylor against Mr. Johnstone, the Massey Manufacturing Co.'s superintendent, was tried yesterday at Toronto. Great interest was taken in the case.

Des Moines will have the largest coal bunkers on the Sound.

POSTAL PACKAGES.

Some Changes In the Custom House Offices.

Passing along Wharf street this afternoon, the ubiquitous news-gatherer noticed a new sign on the Wharf street door of the custom's examining warehouse, reading "Express Packages and Postal Parcels." THE TIMES reporter dropped in to see if a change had been made from the old mode of handling this branch of the custom business. He found that such a change had been made, and now ladies and others who have business to transact with the postal department can do so without being annoyed by the jostling of huge packages of freight, etc, which formerly lumbered the front of the appraiser's room.

The department of postal packages, looked after by Mr. Fawcett, has been transferred with that officer from the long room in the custom house to the north part of the appraiser's room on Wharf street, and in the future all business with that department will be carried on at the latter locality. The improvement is a good one, and shows that system and a knowledge of business is at the head of affairs. The appraiser's office has also had several notable changes made in its arrangement, and the changes will be greatly to the convenience of the public who have business there.

PERSONAL.

Items Telling of the Movements of Well Known Persons.

Thaddeus Harper arrived to-day on the 'Frisco steamer.

R. P. Rithet was among the arrivals from San Francisco on to-day's steamer.

Mr. A. Bunster, formerly M. P. for Vancouver District, is visiting Nanaimo.

Alex. Dunsmuir will leave for San Francisco on Monday on the Walla Walla.

Contractors Elford & Smith returned from a business trip to the Sound by last night's steamer.

Beaumont Boggs, who has been absent for the past three months visiting friends and relatives near Halifax, arrived on the City of Pueblo.

Rufus Sylvester, of Wrangel, Alaska, came down to Fort Townsend on the City of Topeka, and came over to this city last night.

Alex. Begg, the Crofters' friend, returned from the mainland last night. He has also been making arrangements respecting servant girls.

F. H. Osgood, the electrician, came over from Vancouver last night, where he has a contract for the Electric lighting and Street Car Company.

Capt. Sol. Jacobs telegraphed to-day from Gloucester, Mass., that he was leaving for Victoria and would be here in time to attend at the Supreme Court on the 20th inst., when his case comes up.

VESSELS SHOULD REPORT.

The Law in this Matter is to be Strictly Enforced.

The Revised Statutes of Canada, 49 Vict., Cap. 32, Sec. 25 to 27, inclusive, deal with the matter of vessels coming from the Customs House, and state that, "The master of every vessel coming from any port or place out of Canada, whether in ballast, shall go without delay on board such vessel is anchored or lay, when such vessel is anchored or moored, to the Custom House, and there make a report of the cargo, passengers on board, sea stores, etc." This also applies to vessels coasting, and to inland navigation, when coming in.

This law has for some time not been adhered to very strictly, but a Times reporter has it on the best of authority, that in the future the letter is to be strictly enforced, and if boats or vessels masters who have in the past been remiss in their duty to look sharp and not get into difficulties with the Customs officials, for the latter have the law on their own side, and are certain to win their case.

SPEEDY TRIALS.

(Before Mr. Justice Walkem.)

Wm. Griffiths was the first prisoner up for trial. Deputy Attorney-General Irving stated to the court that the principal witness and prosecutor, Charles Brewster, was absent. He had been summoned but failed to appear, and a warrant for his arrest would be asked for.

His Lordship—This is the saloon row case, is it not, where the prisoner is charged with biting?

He was answered in the affirmative, and proceedings for the taking out of a warrant were instituted, but at that moment Brewster entered the court-room, and Justice Walkem administered a severe rebuke to him for keeping the court waiting, saying that it would only be right to inflict a fine, as people should be learnt to be punctual in attending the call of the court.

Evidence was then given, it being a repetition of that in the police court.

The counsel for the defence, Mr. E. D Helmcken, subjected the prosecutor to a rigid cross-examination, and elicited the information that the witness was neither drunk nor sober.

His Lordship said that a man in the condition of two negatives was a paradox that he had never yet met with.

The taking of the evidence took up a good deal of time, and at its conclusion His Lordship discharged the prisoner, stating at the same time that it was very evident the prosecutor had brought the trouble on himself by his quarrel with Griffiths, but as the prosecutor had stated that the wound was healing, and that he did not wish to have the prisoner punished, he would be discharged.

NOLLE PROSEQUI.

James Brown, charged with using abusive and insulting language and threatening with a revolver, was discharged, as the prosecutor did not care to go on with the case.

Des Moines has a fine three story Hotel called the Hyatte House.

Funeral.

The remains of the late Louis Roller will be interred to-morrow afternoon, the funeral leaving his late residence, corner of Yates and Douglas streets, at 2 p. m., and Christ Church Cathedral at 2:30. The members of the Queen City Band to-day ordered a beautiful floral emblem as a tribute to the deceased and will attend the funeral to-morrow discoursing appropriate music.

A Business Report.

Mr. James McCarty, of Rounds & McCarty's collecting bureau, Drumbo, Ont., states—"Have used several bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters for kidney disorder and find it a wonderful remedy. Previously I had been taking pills, thinking I had liver complaint, but now I am quite well and will always praise B.B.B."

Hose Inspectors.

There is a large and flourishing society in Vancouver, which, singular to say, has thus far elected no officers, nor has it a life insurance adjunct. The society is known as "hose inspectors," and on rainy or muddy days the society is in session. At any corner on Cordova street is stationed a large committee whose duty seems to be to size up the shape, color and general condition of the article of female attire known as a stocking. The largest committee in daily session near the post office, the position of the steps being conducive to longer and better observations. It is a great society and keeps up well.

The Lucky Number of the Paris Tombola—A Half Million Franc Prize.

EDITORIAL CHANGE.

London, Feb. 1.—Paul Robinson has resigned the editorship of the Sunday Times, and sails for America next week to engage in newspaper work, the exact nature of which is not given out here. George Augustus Sala has been offered his position.

FIRE ON THE TEUTONIC.

Liverpool, Feb. 1.—A slight fire occurred this morning between the decks on the White Star steamship Teutonic, now lying at the dock here. It was subdued before much damage was done.

ANOTHER OCCUPATION.

Rome, Feb. 1—Notwithstanding official denials which are steadily put forward, it is believed the government seriously intends to accomplish the permanent occupation of Massowah.

DILKE'S NEW WORK.

The World of the Future to be Divided Among Three Races.

London, Feb. 1.—Sir Charles Dilke's new book, "The Problems of Great Britain," in two volumes, came out yesterday.

In the work the author expresses the belief that the world in the future will be divided among the Anglo-Saxon, Russian and Chinese races. France, he says, may grow to be a great military and naval power, and Germany may also acquire a great navy as well as a great army, besides amassing tremendous wealth; but so rapid is the increase of Great Britain and America in strength and riches that before the next century is ended the French and German navies are likely to appear little more than pigmies beside the British or Americans or Russians.

Sir Charles thinks the Chinese in expanding the limits of their population across the seas will tend to fall under the influence of India and be a British colony, and so become a powerful factor in the great civilization of the world and one of the greatest dominant powers.

THE DOCTORS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—How comes it that the state of affairs described in the pamphlet issued by M. S. Wade, M.D., of Victoria, have been allowed to exist so long? The medical profession may have known of their pitiful plight, but if so why did they not bestir themselves? The people, the ci devant public, did not know the truth or more would have been heard of it. Such injustice is almost beyond credence, yet that Dr. Wade is simply reciting the bare facts is readily seen by referring to the acts he quotes from. The press should take the subject in hand, and assist in having the medical laws brought into a more sensible condition. Why should the followers of one school of thought be provided for by a special act? If a man is a "doctor" let him be on the same footing as his fellow practitioners. If an examination has to be passed, then let everyone have to pass it, and not make such distinctions as Dr. Wade points out as being so invidious. A fair field and no favor to doctors as well as other vocations. FAIR PLAY.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—So sure, sir, as our Provincial Legislature meets so sure will there appear notices of amendments of the Municipal Clauses Act, and the County Courts Act and if the members had nothing else for consideration they would be sure to find these two subjects furnishing staple matter for notice. When on earth will they be licked into good and approved shape? With reference to both of them I submit it would be well if the proposed alterations were made known to the public before they became law.

Our County Court for the collection of small debts certainly needs improvement. At present it is far too cumbrous, inasmuch as a suitor for a petty amount has perhaps to wait a whole day while heavy and complicated cases are engaged with important amounts. They manage these things better in Melbourne, Australia: there they have what is called a £10 court for settlement of petty amounts, where no legal fees are allowed and another court from £10 to £200. In the first court, the chairman alone presides; in the second court, for adjucation of large sums the court is presided over by the chairman and two assessors selected from the panel of special courts who sit together forensic and special courts who sit together forming both judge and jury, the decision of two of them being decisive. This arrangement which takes off the responsibility of the responsible judge being both judge and jury, gives satisfaction. W. K. B.

EARLY ONE MORNING.

She goes! she goes!
And no one hears,
And no one knows,
But she fears, she fears.
Her father sleeps; if she only knew,
Her mother weeps just a dream come true.
And the morning wears.

She goes! she goes!
Down the echoing stair,
And the white light grows
And is everywhere.
Soon the birds will chirp, and the busy mill
Hum, and the cows go up the hill.
And she not there!

She goes! she goes!
On the window sill
The white cat knows.
But sits on still,
Blinking her yellow eyes in the sun;
The house dog knows, but he'll tell to none,
Since 'tis her will!

She goes! she goes!
The door's unbarred.
How the cock crows
In the neighbor's yard!
She shrinks when she hears the ripe pear fall
On the dew-sodden earth by the garden wall.
All's heard! all's marr'd!

No, for she goes,
With a secret smile,
For she knows, she knows
That all the while
Her lover stands where the roads divide,
With a song on his lips and his sword at his side
And a foot on the stile.

—Violet Hunt in Longman's Magazine

The Tramway.

The office and works of the tramway company will be lighted up on Monday evening next and the machinery running in full blast. A few days afterwards the cars will begin to run. The meeting advertised for Monday evening is for shareholders only.

Royal Commission.

Capt. F. Devereaux, of the dock yard at Esquimalt, has received the warrant as a royal commissioner to hold an enquiry into the conduct of one of the officers of the Marine and Fisheries Department in this city. The enquiry will be held next week.

The "Beautiful."

A very disagreeable fall of snow occurred last night, which quickly melted today. At Nanaimo last night there was a fall of four inches, but owing to its sloppy nature was unfit for sleighing. On the line of the E. & N. Railway there was also a heavy fall, especially around the summit, but it did not interfere with train movements in the least.

No Libel in This.

Mr. E. C. Kellogg begs leave to state that he will gladly put up any prescription brought to his store for a reasonable profit, and not take advantage of people ignorant of medical terms by charging them an exhorbitant price because they do not know the meaning of the Latin words in the doctor's prescription. Bring them any hour, day or night, and from any doctor.

Silver.

Suitable for gifts, the following elegant line of goods in handsome plush, satin lined cases: Beautiful engraved silver coffee spoons, salt cellars and spoons, pie knives, fish knives, berry spoons, and carving sets. These goods are just the thing for presents, and are not expensive.

Pennock & Clayton also carry a fine line of oxydized ware, the most unique and tasteful metal-work extant. They are manufacturing jewellers as well as dealers.

Victoria Boys' School.

The twelve boys of the second division, Miss A. D. Cameron, teacher, who have attained the rank of first in merit for the month of January are: Arthur Frederick Richardson, Thomas Haydn Wilson, Percy Dunkerly, George William Andrews, George Clinton Pickard, Walter Frederick Askew, Leonard Alfred Gill, William Charles Redfern, Francis Herbert Barkholder, Douglas Campbell Tuck, John Henry North, William Fraser.

Ice Jam.

An ice jam in the Fraser did some damage on Wednesday night, and carried away five buoys. The steamers Princess Louise and Dunsmuir were moored to the wharf at Ladner's Landing and did a little tugging on their own account. The Louise arrived last night about ten o'clock with a very large cargo, comprising 700 sacks of oats, 593 sacks of barley and 114 bales of hay for John Dooley; also 793 sacks of oats for Brackman & Ker. It all came from Ladner's Landing.

The Women's Ward.

The chairman and one of the members of the police committee to-day visited the city lock-up, and examined the premises with a view to have a woman's ward built. Sketch plans have been made, and estimates of the cost will be prepared for presentation to the board of aldermen next Wednesday night, together with a motion to have such an addition built to the lock-up. The members of the police committee are evidently in accord with the sentiments expressed by THE TIMES.

Sent Aboard.

The four refractory sailors of the schooner Triumph were up in the police court this morning and charged with disobeying the lawful commands of Capt. Cox. Mr. Gwynne, of Davie & Bodwell's office, appeared for the prosecution, and stated that the captain was willing to allow the men to go back to the vessel, provided that the men will behave and keep sober, as the whole trouble arose over a too free indulgence in whiskey. His Honor lectured the men on the evils of disobeying the commands of the captain, and on their promise that they would behave, allowed the men to go aboard to their duty.

Resignation and Appointment.

The resignation of Mr. A. Shaw, station master at the Nanaimo depot, will take off at to-day. Mr. Shaw has held the position ever since the railroad was first placed in operation and has become thoroughly competent in the discharge of his onerous duties which have considerably increased during the time he has held the position. Mr. Shaw now intends to devote his whole time to the advancement of the electric light in Nanaimo. Mr. H. Good, who has held the position of station master at Kokaiah for some time past, will succeed Mr. A. Shaw as station master and operator of Nanaimo.

Scarcity of Potatoes.

Mr. Uriah Nelson, of New Westminster says it looks very much as if the supply of potatoes would be entirely exhausted by the month of April. There were now, he said, only 200 tons of potatoes on the Mainland and these were rapidly being consumed. Orders were being received from the upper country and points along the coast as far as 'Frisco, and when any of these orders were filled the price readily given was $42.50 at the warehouse. The price to Vancouver merchants to-day he said, was $40.00. At San Francisco and in the cities on the Sound they were selling at $35 per sack.

Poor Fellows.

San Francisco Chronicle: The men I pity most at New Year's time are the millionaries. They balance their books, and they find that they have not made anything like as much as they would have liked to have made, however much they have made. I don't know, because my business does not take me much into the haunts of the millionaire; but I judge 1889 has not been a good year for them. The other day a friend of mine went in to see a well-known real estate owner of other people's real estate as well as his own. He found him seated at his desk, with his bank book before him, in a brown study. He looked pale and haggard and ill. "What's the matter? You don't look well!" "Don't I? Do I look bad?" "Yes; you look bad." "Well, I guess you'd look bad, too, if you had $5,000,000 lying idle in the bank, not drawing a —— cent of interest."

Williams' Directory for 1890.

The directory issued by Mr. R. T. Williams, for the cities of Victoria and Nanaimo for the year 1890, has just been placed before the public, and like the previous ones bearing the publisher's imprint, is in every respect first class, it being if anything superior to former publications. The information enclosed within its covers, besides the mere collection of names and addresses, is valuable and comprehensive, and will be of immense use, not only to strangers but to the general public. The publisher in a very short preface, mentions that the directory is a home production, has employed a number of persons in the province, and retained some thousands of dollars here. The increased dimensions of the book also speaks in a solid and unmistakable manner of the progress of the cities it has reference to. The classification is well done, Mr. Thos. Draper the compiler, having done his work well. The typographical appearance is neat, the type large and clear, and to every way the directory is a credit, both to the cities and the publisher.

There are 200 men in Des Moines clearing and grading the streets.

MATTERS EDUCATIONAL.

Is the distinguished writer who supplies the Colonist with its long and barren articles on the education question unable to comprehend an argument when it has been presented in terms so fair and explicit that even an ordinary school boy can have no difficulty in understanding it? Or is it his object to evade the real points at issue between the teachers of this province and the Department of Education and divert attention from them by emphasizing matters that are of no importance whatever and have not the remotest bearing on the determination of the real question? The truth appears to be that the education editor of the Colonist is in consequence of his exalted political position, impressed with a profound sense of the keen insight and intelligence of the average British Columbian editor, and is accordingly interested in concealing as much as possible the true situation regarding the schools. It is diverting to note the persistency with which the Colonist ignores facts we have stated time and again, and it is positively ludicrous to see it gravely try to fasten the responsibility for the extraordinary state of affairs existing in 1890 upon the men who administered the affairs of the province many years ago. We must confess to some surprise that, in seeking for a precedent to justify the arbitrary acts of the Education Department, the Colonist did not go back to the days when men were pilloried for daring to express an independent thought, and had their ears clipped and noses slit for daring to adhere to their belief. If the organ continues to rake up events in ancient history, it will no doubt be able to produce precedent upon precedent in extenuation of the acts of the present government, and we should not be at all surprised to see the Attorney-General some day taking a keg of beer to an outlying constituency and justifying his action by pointing to the example of Noah of old. But seriously, if the government of the day is responsible for its administration of the schools, why does it seek to throw the blame of mismanagement upon a previous government? If the previous government erred should not the present government take wholesome warning by its fate? The maxim that he "who excuses himself accuses himself" applies to governments as well as to individuals. Everyone knows that in 1878 it was absolutely necessary in the interests of the schools to call up teachers for re-examination, but now the reasons for such a regulation no longer exist in this province any more than they do in any other part of the Dominion.

But without taking up space in considering the tu quoque species of argument resorted to by the Colonist, we shall briefly state our case as far as we have gone, and so enable our contemporary to refresh its apparently defective memory. We made the broad charge that the department was a political machine run in the interests of JOHN ROBSON, and we instanced the case of Mr. HALLIDAY to show that public school teachers are employed as the political agents of the government. We also pointed out what the Colonist has not once touched on, viz, that the powers which the Department possesses and the manner in which it exercises those powers are inconsistent with the enjoyment, by the teachers, of the privilege of free criticism of educational methods and of the right to appeal against injustice however gross. That the Department is constantly meddling in the appointment of teachers can be denied by no one who at all takes any interest in such matters. A few weeks ago saw it actively canvassing in favor of the appointment of a red-hot political supporter to a vacancy in the Victoria High school, to the exclusion of one than whom there is no better teacher in British Columbia, but who unfortunately has somehow incurred the displeasure of the powers that be. And when other entirely unnecessary changes were made at the same time did not a high official early next morning telephone with malignant glee his sarcastic congratulations to a grinning partizan at the Central school? And before Mr. MUIR'S certificate was cancelled did not the Department do everything in its power to prevent him from getting a school, even going so far as to inform trustees that his appointment could not be accepted? Let the Colonist also give some plausible explanation to a public that wants information as to why at conventions teachers are afraid to vote when voting involves a censure of the administration of the Department. It is notorious that at the convention recently held in Vancouver, many teachers declined to vote on a question affecting the Department. And why? Because they knew perfectly well, if they spoke and voted against the Department, they would be sure to pay the penalty of their temerity sometime and they had probably heard the cogent advice of a certain Minister of the Crown that "teachers who are sensible, do not complain." Will the Colonist state that the frequent re-examination of teachers has nothing to do with their silence at conventions?

THE SOLID MOSSBACKS.

Convene twenty-six men and make them a proposition involving some social or business question with which they are reasonably familiar, and the proportion of negatives or affirmatives, as the case may be, will range as two in three. With regard to juries in their estimate of guilt or innocence the proportion is about the same. Those who have sat on juries are but too well aware that unanimity of opinion is the exception rather than the rule. We are brought to these remarks by the character of the voting yesterday on MR. BEAVEN'S amendment to the Legal Professions Amendment Bill, by which he proposed to eliminate the clause in the bill which requires candidates for admission to the bar of this province to pass the examination of a local board with reference to legal capacity and moral fitness. The amendment proposed by Mr. BEAVEN was reasonable, liberal, a departure from the hide-bound practices which are in vogue in England and Canada, and which have contributed in a no slight degree to migration of Canadian brawn and brains to the United States. The amendment, however, did not correspond with the narrow-gauge views of the Attorney-General and at the signal "thumbs-up," every government thumb in the House assumed a perpendicular attitude, and in the event of the bill passing the third reading as it now stands, which it most certainly will, the Legal Professions Act, in all its original one-sidedness, will still be to all intents and purposes in complete operation. Now, as to the defeat of the amendment we were not surprised. No sooner had we ran our eyes over the amendment bill than we were positive that the intent of the government was simply a nominal modification of the original act, but we were surprised at the unanimity of the vote of the government supporters. Reckoning by the rule of averages that we laid down at the outset of this article, at least three supporters should have voted for the amendment. But as all signs fail in bad weather, as the saying goes, so in estimating rules of average with reference to the House do these fail, and we are forced to the conclusion that either the discipline of the government is perfect or that their supporters are as illiberal a gang as ever graced legislative chairs. The defeat of Mr. BEAVEN'S amendment is what is called legislation in the interest of the public. This is the kind of legislation which the HON. THEO. DAVIE the next time he takes the stump will unblushingly designate as anti class legislation. It is now in order for all the professions and trades in the province to demand of the legislature the same protection that has been accorded the lawyers! Every doctor, every dentist, every merchant, every grocer, every blacksmith, every wheelwright, and every carpenter have in all equity the right to constitute themselves into a board of examiners to pass on the professional capacity, and moral fitness of all applicants who desire to earn a living at their several vocations, and they should at once petition the House to that effect. This should be done if for no other purpose than to observe the alacrity with which the House will stultify itself, for rest assured, the House would not entertain petitions of this kind for a moment. It is a condition too well known to require comment, that litigants in this province are suffering, either from the fact that the lawyers are overworked, or that they are grossly incompetent. Complaints among litigants of this kind are but too numerous. Still, if litigants who are the electors are satisfied we do not complain. If they are content so are we. We allude to the defeat of MR. BEAVEN'S amendment principally as showing the remarkable solidity of the government vote. The "solid south" is no solider.

LIBEL LAWS.

We have not heard it even hinted that a bill to amend the libel law of this province will be brought before the House this year. The government having practically shelved the only liberal supporter they had by elevating him to the Speakership will scarcely bring forward any bills other than of a reactionary character. But though progress is effectually blocked in the province for another year at least, it is encouraging to know that measures are being taken in other parts of the world to put a stop to blackmailing. Says the Boston Traveller: "A large number of newspaper publishers and editors of this state will ask for the enactment of a law prohibiting actions for libel when the offensive publication is not malicious, and retraction of anything said that is untrue is made as soon as practicable, upon the request of the person aggrieved." As a matter of fact, and it is well understood by all persons who have acquaintance with the press that malice seldom or never plays any part in the utterance of a libel, and says the Springfield Republican, "Nobody desires to have any safeguards touching malicious libel taken down, least of all the reputable press, or to relieve the newspapers from any just responsibility under the law. But when the law presumes malice in the publication of matters of current news coming through the Associated Press, for example, wherein no evil intent can possibly exist, the conditions imposed are neither reasonable nor right. If such proper changes are to be called for, however, it will be in order for the newspaper publishers of Massachusetts to show their interest by appearing at the hearings. Most of them failed to do th's last year. If the men most interested are indifferent, the lawmakers will scarcely likely to come to the rescue."

THE MAINLAND SOCIETY.

The subjoined is the platform of the "Mainland Society."

That the central executive will, in no way, interfere in party politics as such, but will be governed by the principle, "measures, not men."

That as it is the primary object of the association to insist upon population being made the basis of representation, the central executive will use their best endeavors to that end.

That the constituency now known as "New Westminster District" should be divided into as many ridings (or constituencies bearing local names) as will give it one member for each constituency.

That Vancouver shall be a separate constituency, and that the representation of Vancouver and New Westminster shall be based on population.

That the constituencies be recommended strictly to adhere to the principle of electing (except of course in the case of representatives who are cabinet ministers) none but bona fide residents to represent them in the legislature.

That it shall be the duty of the central committee to call upon every association to aid (by holding meetings, passing resolutions, etc.) any constituency which may appear to be unjustly dealt with.

It will be seen that the Mainland Society proposes to introduce a radical change as to the basis of representation in this province. Population, according to this view, should be made the basis of representation. But the point upon which we would lay the most stress is the clause requiring representatives to be bona fide residents of their constituencies. With regard, however, to the exception made in the case of cabinet ministers, we fail to see where the point comes in. If it so be that representatives must be bona fide residents of their constituencies we fail to see the application of the exception. How could it be possible if all the members of the House are bona fide residents of the locality they represent, for a cabinet minister to be otherwise than a bona fide resident. As no candidate is eligible to the House in the first place unless he is a resident of the locality he seeks to represent, it follows as a matter of course that the clause excepting cabinet ministers from the rule is superfluous. A cabinet minister must have been a member of the House, and as a member of it, he must have been a bona fide resident of some particular constituency. The Mainland Society seem to be a little mixed in their ideas.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The silence of the mainland papers respecting their ideas of re-districting is as cruel as it is ominous. Ordinarily when knotty public questions are before the people the papers have something to say which contributes to lighten the government's perplexity. The cue is given, so to speak, and the government proceeds accordingly. Thus it was in the land swap matter, and the government discovered it to be a job which they had better let alone. With regard to re-distributing, however, no such gentle hint has or is likely to issue from the press, and the government must grope along the best it can. As it is the mainland which is most interested in the re-distributing business, a suggestion from some of its organs would be a perfect god send. The government cabal could then go into caucus with comparatively light hearts. Alas, not one of the sheets has even a hint to offer! What a condition of things! Why does not the Colonist toot its horn?

The despotic disposition of the Premier was never more manifest than in Thursday's debate when he reproached Mr. ORR with going over to the opposition, and flatly told him that he was barred the sacred precincts of the government caucus soon to be held to consider the redistricting question. These tart remarks of the Premier suggest that it would be better for the province that the two parties were more evenly divided. There would be in such a case more courtesy shown by the government, and between the contentions of both their compromises, and all that sort of thing, the interests of the province would be better served. As a prudential measure, as a measure calculated to evoke from the government their best efforts, Lillooet and Westminster should have sent to the House opposition members. The government would still have had a good working majority, and at the same time, they would have been just sufficiently apprehensive to keep them on good behavior. The worst thing that can happen the province is to have the party in power overwhelmingly in the majority. It is when both parties are about equally balanced that we have the best legislation.

FRIDAY, Jan. 31.

The Attorney General moved the second reading of the Legal Professions Act.

He explained that a useful provision of the bill was that students might study outside of the province and have some experience in the extensive business of other parts of the country before practising in this province. The clause, which required the party making application to practice in the province, pay the fee in advance, was necessary to prevent persons from making applications which they did not intend to carry out. The principal clause was that removing the residential qualification. This had been the subject of misrepresentation by those opposing the government and it required some little explanation on his part. The bill when passed in 1884 was passed by a unanimous vote of the House.

Hon. Mr. Beaven—Oh, no!

Attorney-General—Yes, it passed without division, which is the same thing as being unanimous.

Opposition—Oh, no!

Hon. Mr. Beaven—I wish to contradict the honorable gentleman's statement. I voted against it.

Mr. Semlin—So did I.

Attorney-General—The honorable gentleman's memory is entirely astray. The residential qualification was not introduced for the purpose of keeping anyone out, although some little objection was taken to this qualification but when the attorney-general of the time explained that the County and Supreme Court judgeships were reserved by the B. N. A. Act for practitioners resident in the province, the bill was allowed to pass. This protection was no now longer necessary. Proceeding, he explained that persons coming from any colony where the common law of England was not the common law of the land, would be required to pass a general examination.

Hon. Mr. Beaven thought the Attorney General was the only member of the legal profession who would say that he (Mr. B.) supported the Legal Professions Act of 1884. In fact ever since he had the honor of a seat in this House he had advocated free trade in law, the admission of barristers without restriction. Mr. Welkem, Attorney-General of one of the governments, of which he (Mr. B.) was a member, saw the advisability of such a provision and passed a law to that effect. That was the law from 1877 to 1884, when the present law was introduced. The measure passed by Mr. Walkem was very unpopular among the majority of the legal profession and in Victoria, where the majority resided, he (Mr. B.) did not believe half a dozen members of the legal profession had voted for him (Mr. B.) on account of his support of that measure. How the honorable gentleman could say he supported the present act of 1884 was past comprehension.

Attorney-General—You did not vote against it.

Hon. Mr. Beaven—Well I did vote against it. Producing a volume of the Daily Standard containing a report of the proceedings of the session of 1884, he read the remarks of himself, and the members for Cassiar and Esquimalt (Mr. Helgesen) opposing the bill also where amendments moved by him were defeated. The present bill produced a loud noise but when it was passed what would it amount to? It would be nothing by the bill that was repealed in 1884. He was in hopes that the honorable gentleman was going to show himself as liberal, as Attorney General Walkem had been and if he had he (Mr. B.) would have been found cordially supporting him. He did not see that it was necessary to examine a lawyer, who had been admitted to practice in the courts of England, Scotland or the eastern provinces. If they could produce certificates of good conduct from the judges of the supreme courts from where they came, what more should be required? What a farce it would be for the lawyers of this province to attempt to examine a gentleman like the Hon. Edward Blake. If he (Mr. B.) were a lawyer, he would be glad to have men of ability to rub against in order to learn and get points from them.

Mr. Grant pointed out that the statement of the Attorney General to the effect that the Act of 1884 "was passed unanimously" was without foundation of reason. He agreed with provisions which sought to secure good character in the profession.

Hon. Mr. Pooley said the bill was a more liberal than that of any measure of a similar kind in the eastern provinces or in Great Britain. In Ontario, a practitioner from another province was required to enter as an articled clerk and to take the whole of the provincial examination before being admitted.

Hon. Mr. Beaven asked the President of the Council if he knew whether he (Mr. B.) had voted for the bill of 1884 or not.

Hon. Mr. Pooley remembered that he had spoken against it. He did not remember the vote.

Bill read a second time and referred to committee.

In committee the leader of the opposition said he did not think the attorney-general should practice while he held office. It was not fair nor desirable for him to do so. He moved that the clause requiring a barrister coming into the province to pass an examination be struck out. Amendment lost.

Mr. Duck moved that section 31, subsection 4 of the Act of 1884 be amended by striking out the word "five" and inserting the word "four." In some of the other provinces it was only necessary to pass through an apprenticeship of four years, whereas in this province the term was five years. He did not believe in handicapping our own people and giving the advantage to outsiders.

The attorney general thought this was a great mistake. Five years was not too long to learn a profession, and to lessen the term would tend to lower the profession.

Mr. Duck—Well, don't admit lawyers from other provinces who have only served four years.

On a vote being taken Mr. Duck's amendment was lost and the bill reported from committee.

CANCELLATION OF CERTIFICATES.

The attorney-general resumed the debate on Mr. Beaven's motion re the cancellation of certificates. Since the debate was adjourned he had had the privilege of perusing the remarks of the leader of the opposition as reported in the opposition paper. In that report Mr. Beaven was made to say that he (Mr. Davie) during his election campaign had assured the electors that he would not interfere in any way with the free, non-sectarian school system. These remarks to the electors, attributed to him (Mr. Davie) were not correct. What he had said was that he would not be a party to the breaking up of the present free school system." Proceeding the honorable gentleman endeavored to show that the cancellation of the certificates in 1877 was for political reasons. He said there was nothing in the actions of this government which made educational matter subservient to politics.

Hon. Mr. Beaven, as he had said before, personally knew nothing about the matter of the cancellation of certificates in 1877, but had read to the House the reports of the superintendent of education, which had never been questioned.

The leader of the government said the superintendent, whose reports had been quoted, was an extreme partisan and the reports showed that he was burning under the castigations of the press, which he received at the time when he wrote these reports. The opposition press was endeavoring to convince the public that the power to grant or cancel the certificates was placed in the power of one man, and that man was the provincial secretary. He did not know anything more reprehensible. The party now in opposition was the one which cancelled certificates on the base grounds attributed to the party in power. The teachers in the province should be thankful that a party came into office which could place safeguards around them and not subject them to the statups mere minors in the hands of the superintendent of education. Every act passed by the present government was calculated to free the teachers from obnoxious conditions and make their positions better than they were before. This question was made the leading election cry in the late campaign in Victoria, but the Attorney-General so thoroughly convinced the public that it was false that he was returned with a triumphant majority. The emissaries who had been trying to sow discord among the teachers had been unsuccessful and the attempt was acting like a boomerang, returning upon the parties who made it.

Hon. Mr. Beaven—Did I understand the honorable gentleman to say that the superintendent of education in 1879 had the power to cancel teachers' certificates.

The leader of the government did not reply. The Attorney-General admitted that he had not.

The honorable member for Cassiar said the only trouble with the provincial secretary was that he was not consistent. He (Mr. Grant) had heard him on different occasions take the opportunity to make a political speech in addressing school children. At a recent examination a friend at his shoulder remarked. "Well the honorable gentleman does not forget No. 1 does he? He does not loose any opportunity to promote party interests." It was a notorious fact that in addressing the pupils of the schools, where there were many boys who would soon have votes, that he tries to impress on their young minds the great advantages in having the present party administrating school affairs.

Mr. Semlin said there was an impression abroad among the electors that the school system was not conducted wholly free from politics. It was not fair to attack a man who was not here. The Provincial Secretary was not justified in referring to the late superintendant of education as a tool. In fact he was directly the opposite, a man who toed the mark himself and wished everyone to do the same.

Mr. Grant—Contemptible was the word.

Mr. Semlin—Yes. No such language can be justified. But he would like to know what all this had to do with the information asked for by his honorable friend? What had this ancient history to do with the correspondence and papers desired? This was the old story, the government in the position of the attorney with a poor case abusing the opposing counsel.

Hon. Mr. Robson said there were no such papers and there was no sense in asking for them.

Hon. Mr Beaven—If that is the case it will only be necessary to write across the face of the return "there are no such documents." It looks rather fishy to make objections to the passing of the resolution.

The amended resolution was carried.

PRIVILEGE.

Mr. Ladner said he was willing to give the government credit for the gentlemen it had appointed to examine the North Arm bridges. They were practical men. He would now suggest that the committee be empowered to meet on the ground and see the bridges for themselves in order that they might form a more intelligent opinion on the subject.

The leader of the government said he agreed that the suggestion was a good one, but such a recommendation must come from the committee.

THE LIBRARY.

Hon. Mr. Beaven said the library was in good condition. It never had been satisfactory and no one was in charge of it this year.

The leader of the government explained that according to a resolution of last session the appropriation of librarian was applied for a law clerk and librarian combined.

Coughs, Colds, Croup.

Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It excites expectoration and causes the Lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced COUGH CURE. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25-cent bott'e to test it.

The Ladies Delighted.

Marine Notes.

The steamer Pilot has been laid up for a few necessary repairs. Work being slack the opportunity was taken to put things straight.

Preparations are being made at the heavy crane on Spratt's wharf for the lifting out of the tug Active's boiler, which is to be rebuilt.

Mechanics are busy at the steamer Amelia, her engines being put straight, and paddle wheels rebuilt.

Steamer Changes.

The City of Topeka will not make this trip to Alaska, but the steamer Santa Cruz will take her place, leaving San Francisco on Monday next with a cargo of powder, but carrying no passengers. The steamer will call here en route.

In place of the Corona running to Alaska this year, the special steamer will be the Queen of the Pacific, which makes the first trip June 2nd. The Umatilla will then go on the Victoria-Frisco route.

The Building Era.

Mechanics and laborers are in an unhappy state of mind over the continued changeable weather. All are as anxious to get to work as contractors are, to commence on their contracts. It is estimated that the contracts under way so far this year are to the extent of at least half a million dollars, and the building boom promises to eclipse all previous years. All of which is exceedingly gratifying and healthy.

The Sardonyx.

This steamer arrived from Departure Bay about one o'clock this morning with 400 tons of coal for the C. P. N. Co's use. An examination of the vessel's bottom has demonstrated that extensive repairs are necessary, owing to the recent mishap up north. The vessel is by no means disabled, but on the side of safety it is most likely she will be laid off for a time, and if the dry dock could be utilized she would be put into it at once.

Effect at the Fraser.

Capt. Rogers of the steamer Dansmuir which arrived at Vancouver Thursday with salmon from Lulu Island, reports the gale at the mouth of the Fraser was the most severe felt there for several years. The dykes were broken down in several places letting the water flow over the land, threatening serious damage. The buoys off the sandheads were gone. The Stella, which had gone down from New Westminster, reported the river clear of ice up to the city.

Victoria Rifle Association.

The meeting of the Victoria Rifle Association held last evening was well attended. The report of the committee appointed to frame by-laws was adopted. Early steps will be taken to procure long Snider rifles for the association. The yearly subscription has been put at the low figure of $2 50, for the purpose of encouraging new shots. A new system of classification will also be made that new hands can have a share in all the prizes. Under these favorable rule a large number of amateur riflemen will no doubt join.

The Public Buildings.

According to the World no provision has been made for the erection of public buildings at Vancouver this year. This is unfortunate. Vancouver should have a postoffice at the very least. The World attributes the omission of the Dominion government in this regard to the "jealousy existing between the East and West Ends," whatever that means, and calls upon the citizens "to take action at once," as possibly "it is not yet too late to have something done this session." What this province needs to insure recognition by Ottawa is a little more "independent but generous support." Does the World tumble?

Drifted into Harbor.

The German bark Nebo, Capt. Olsen, which passed up the other day for Burrard Inlet, was not supplied with a pilot as the captain considered it unnecessary to employ one of those useful helps to navigation in inland waters, and depended on his own and the tug boat people's knowledge to get safe into harbor. This is where he made a mistake, for the anchor was let go in 60 fathoms of water, and when the late heavy gale was at its highest the Nebo drifted for quite a distance until shoal water was reached at the mouth of harbor, when the anchor held. Had it not done so the Nebo's position would have been serious, as there was no tug handy to help her.

Vernona Jarbeau.

There is lack of language or rather a challenge to thought and ideas, when it is demanded to classify the lively Vernona Jarbeau. She is a soubrette at one moment, a burlesquer the next instant, then a sprightly comedienne. Her action bubbles with intensity, suppleness and most magnetic and attractive vivacity. While on the stage she is in constant motion. She can sing, delight you with her liquid, dancing eyes, swing her arms in most expressive gestures and keeps her lithe form in most graceful and sinuous motion—all at the same time. So lively is this bright little woman that it is impossible almost to conceive all the expression she is capable of.

"Starlight" is a bright musical comedy in which we see a constellation of stars all radiant with delicious music and pleasing songs. It will be presented at the Victoria Theatre on Monday and Tuesday nights next.

Thorough Workmen.

If your watch requires thorough repairing, Davidson Bros., Poodle Dog block, Yates street, is the place to take it to.

LAW ON SMUGGLING.

It is Especially Severe on Breakers of the Act.

In the police court while the case of the Queen vs. Brown was being heard, counsel for the defense drew attention to that clause of the Act which reads, "that any person who 'knowingly' breaks the law," and claimed that it would be monstrous to convict a man who unwittingly violated the law, and further, asserted that the law should not be so interpreted, stigmatizing it as one-sided. Judge Richards informed him that the law had been constructed purposely one-sided to protect the fair and honest trader. Breakers of the customs laws were, when caught, virtually in the hands of the customs officials, who were vested with special powers in such cases. Ignorance of the law should not be construed as in any way palliating the offence, and dealers should be very careful that they did not offend.

FROM THE NORTH.

Death of a Popular Purser—A Mild Winter.

The City of Topeka arrived at Port Townsend from Alaska yesterday, after a long and slow trip, during which much soft snow was met. The steamer Bonowitz was met above Queen Charlotte Sound and the Elder trip side of the Skeena river, and both vessels lay to for one night.

The wreck of the Ancon at Loring is still in the same position. Her walking beam and bellcs and machinery are still in her, and she has not materially changed since going on the rocks.

At Sitka, a few days ago, J. Vanderbilt, a purser who ran for many years on the Victoria-Wrangel route, died after a long illness. He will best be remembered by pioneers.

Mining news is scarce, but great development is expected in the spring. The winter has not been very severe and three inches of snow lay at Sitka when the Topeka sailed.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

The First Engineer of the Steamer Sardonyx Killed.

A fatal accident occurred while the C. P. N. Co.'s steamer Sardonyx was lying at Nanaimo on Thursday. The victim was the first engineer, H. G. Fox, who fell through the hatch in the cabin, or more properly speaking, the hatch at the foot of the forward cabin stairs, which was open while the steamer was loading coal.

It cannot be explicitly accounted for how he made the fatal step. It was twenty minutes to seven o'clock on Thursday evening and the open hatch is said to have been visible, as three lighted lamps were swinging in the cabin. He had come from the rear of the vessel at the time and was buttoning up his clothes, and the narrow passage which led to the fatal hatch nearly shuts on it. It only required two steps from this narrow passage to fall into the treacherous hole. The spot was well known and the cause which led to the accident can only be ascribed to absent mindedness. The fall was fourteen or fifteen feet, and although no bones were broken the side of the head was badly bruised and one eye blackened, and concussion of the brain was the ultimate cause of death. After being unconscious for fourteen hours he expired about nine o'clock yesterday morning, never having spoken after the fearful fall.

The deceased was about 53 years of age and came to this city from Australia several years ago, during which time he has been employed on different steamers of the C. P. N. Co. He was a first class mechanic and spoken of by his associates as a perfect gentleman. A wife is left to mourn his untimely end and ending. The remains were taken ashore at Nanaimo and brought down on to-day's train for interment here.

Mrs. Fox, who went up for the remains, returned this afternoon. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 with Masonic honors.

CURSE OF DRINK.

A Home Destroyed by a Drunken Husband.

In the police court this morning Fred. McLaren was charged by his wife with assault. The prosecutrix said the whole trouble arose over drink; she had been married for five years and had two children, but her husband had treated her cruelly and she considered her life in danger. She asked His Honor that her husband be bound over to keep the peace.

On the formal charge being read, the prisoner pleaded not guilty. Mrs. McLaren testified that owing to her husband's drinking habits she had left him about five weeks ago with the intention of procuring a divorce. Three weeks ago her husband had promised to be good to her if she would return to him; she did so, but he had not kept his promise, having been drunk every night. Friday night he came home very "bad," and threatened to shoot his wife; called her bad names, and threw a tin of water at her, which drenched her and her baby. When he was sober there was not a better man, but when drunk there was not a worse one.

His Honor—Where does he get his liquor?

Witness—I don't know sir.

His Honor—Did he drink when you married him?

Witness—He took his glass, but was not drunken.

His Honor—You can never trust a man who takes his glass. Young girls should be very careful in marrying a man who drinks, although it is a pity that drink should cause such trouble.

Mrs. McLaren's brother corroborated the statement of his sister, whose story was a pitiful one. The injured woman said she could not stand the ill-treatment any longer, and was determined to have nothing more to do with her husband.

His Honor gave the prisoner a severe lecture, telling him that a good wife, as Mrs. McLaren appeared to be, should be well treated, as it would not be possible to get so good a woman again. After considering the matter, His Honor remanded the prisoner in custody until Monday.

Following are the Inland Revenue collections in this city for the month of January:

Spirits	$6,439 29
Malt	399 18
Tobacco	829 80
Cigars	978 18

Total	$8,784 89

A Good Price.

Mr. R. Wilson Smith, of Montreal, has invested the sum of $209,000 in New Westminster city bonds, 50 years 5 per cent. at a premium of 3¼ cents. The last issue of debentures amounting to $85,000, was sold to the Bank of Montreal at 2½ cents premium. This is a good showing for the credit of the Royal City.

Money invested in new cities always brings large returns. A word to the wise is sufficient. Call on F. G. Richards, 51 Yates street.

Faced a Railway Train.

A young man named J. W. Hewton, of Hewton Bros., butchers, Vancouver, became insane on Thursday and acted in a very strange manner. As the Westminster train was running into the city he stood on the track, notwithstanding the warning of the engine whistle. The train was brought to a standstill when it was almost upon him. He was taken into the city, and shortly afterwards was acting in a frantic manner. On an examination being made of his condition he was ordered to be confined in the penitentiary.

Des Moines property by the acre at a bargain, for a few days only. F. G. Richards, 51 Yates street.

The News' Christmas Number.

The Christmas number of the Vancouver News has just come to hand, and a beautiful number it is, too. The illustrations include Vancouver, New Westminster, the Fraser and Thompson rivers and other points of interest on the line of the C. P. R. The canneries, too, are well represented, including scenes of the northern coast of the province. Among the illustrations of notable individuals we note those of Lord and Lady Stanley, Sir John Macdonald, President Van Horne of the C. P. R., and Mayor Oppenheimer. We also note too that Victoria has had to take a back seat, is left out in the cold, so to speak. The illustrations of Victoria, consist of two scenes of the Chinese quarter on Cormorant street, front and rear. The rear view is extremely picturesque and does great credit to the artistic sense of the photographer who focused his machine on the locality. But though Victoria was neglected we do not complain. She is too well known to require the aid of advertising. There is probably not another city in the world of the size so well known as Victoria. The News deserves great credit for the enterprise it has shown in getting out this number. Thus far as to the character and pictorial excellence of holiday numbers the News may boast that it has distanced its contemporaries. We unqualifiedly pronounce the holiday number of the paper in question to be a effort of which the paper and the province both may well be proud.

THE WONDER of the WORLD is that we can keep up this system of sales at starvation prices. Yet we do it and grow fat on it
ITS NO SECRET,
so we don't mind giving away the scheme. We make SMALL PROFITS on LARGE SALES and better than large profits on small sales ever can pay.
IN THIS WAY
we give satisfaction to our customers, and increase our business. We have found that no man grudges a merchant
A FAIR PROFIT.
But he naturally objects to being fleeced. So should we. We do a big business and a pleasant one by marking goods down to the lowest limit and being Content with Small Profits.
There is nothing wonderful about that, yet when you think of it, it is No Wonder the World Wonders
at such a system. Big profits, big prices, and the big head, have been the rule so long that the low-price, little-profit, modest-mannered way of doing business creates surprise. Come and get a wonderful bargain at
